GREENEVILLE NEWS
Globe Ball Bearing Company Now Employing Fifteen Hands—Other District Doings.

Thursday Frank H. Smith, C. I. Smith and H. R. Branch of the new industries committee of the Norwich Business Men's association, visited Manager C. F. Sultmeier of the Globe Ball Bearing company, who has recently taken over the property of the H. I. company in Greenville. Decided improvements have been made and the plant is now in operation employing about 15 hands. In the near future the plant will be to all indications running to its full capacity, furnishing 35 skilled workmen with employment.
Manager Sultmeier, whose home is at present in New York city, intends to settle in Norwich permanently. He is very enthusiastic over the future of the new company and spoke highly of Norwich respecting its location as an industrial center for his line of business, coming here in preference to either New Jersey or Pennsylvania, where he could have been assured of financial backing.
The committee was assured that the company would employ Norwich labor as far as possible, but they would perhaps be forced to look elsewhere for employees, as a high degree of efficiency is required in some departments of the concern. Several such men are employed in the plant, and it is expected that the plant will be in full operation in about ten days.
The committee offered to extend to the management of the company any assistance that the Norwich Business Men's association might be able to offer.

School District Nominations.
A meeting was held in the Greenville grammar school Tuesday evening at 7.30 o'clock. C. O. Murphy, president. During the meeting the following nominations were made: Edward C. B. Palmer for members of the board of education for three years; D. S. Gilmour for treasurer; Cornelius Doherty for collector of taxes; Joseph Bellefleur for clerk. The meeting lasted about 15 minutes and was adjourned until Friday evening.

Car Service Cut.
Tuesday afternoon the power gave out and nearly all the cars were taken off the local runs. On the Greenville run, the Taftville and Greenville cars were run into the barn shortly after 4 o'clock, only the Williamette car being run once an hour. Shoppers in the city were greatly inconvenienced by the service.

Building New Walk.
For the past two weeks men have been employed in laying a new sidewalk in front of the house of Martin Rosycki on Central avenue. It is expected that the sidewalk, which is a great improvement over the old one, will be completed within a few days.

Timothy Greenwood of Williamette was visiting friends on Central avenue Tuesday.

TAFTVILLE
Nathaniel Lord has gone to Fall River, where he will reside.

George Dejarlais has resigned as a weaver in the Ponemah mills.

Dr. George Thompson is placing an embankment wall on his property for further improvement, later on.

Thomas T. Shea, a former resident of Taftville, was a recent visitor with friends on the Old Canterbury turnpike here.

Fort Terry Contracts.
Three contracts for construction work in connection with improvements at Fort Terry have been awarded from the office of the contracting engineer of the New London artillery district as follows: To a Philadelphia concern has been awarded the contract for the construction of the coal handling and storage plant. The figure was $16,767. A New London contractor has secured the contract for enlarging pump pit and pump house and the construction of nine wells and furnishing pipe and other accessories. The price of this work, which comprises two items of the improvement to the water supply was $5,447. The contract for the third item, which consisted of furnishing an electric motor and triplex pump and other electrical supplies, was given to the Whiteall Electric company of Westerly.

CLAIM MADE FOR $5000 DAMAGES

Daniel Driscoll Suing New London Contractor For Wife's Death — Mrs. Driscoll Was Struck by Lumber Sled Tongue—Died Several Months Later.

When the superior court came in here on Tuesday morning the case of Driscoll vs. Douglas was begun before Judge Holcomb and the jury.
Contractor Hanson R. Douglas of New London is the defendant against Daniel Driscoll, also of New London, as administrator of the estate of Grace L. Driscoll.
The suit is for $5,000 for damages suffered by Mrs. Driscoll, it is claimed, when the sled which was a lumber sled owned by Contractor Douglas. It is claimed that the accident occurred in the spring, 1910, in New London. According to the plaintiff, Mrs. Driscoll was hit in the back, and the force of the blow threw Mrs. Driscoll into the air and she landed in the street, suffering severe injuries, and that she died several months later.
The first witness was John N. Leverone, proprietor of a fruit stand at 781 Bank street, near where the accident is alleged to have occurred. Mr. Leverone testified to seeing the accident, and seeing Mrs. Driscoll go into the air and fall, with much force, to the ground.
Other witnesses put on by the plaintiff were Thomas J. Doyle, Rowland N. Salley, Daniel H. Driscoll, Little Agnes Rowley, Dr. Harry M. Lee, Carrie B. Whipple and G. Maynard Miner.
The plaintiff rested at 3.05 and the defense began its case by putting on George K. Crandall, who was followed by John Richard Forrest the driver, whose team and sled it was that hit

Mrs. Driscoll. Mr. Crandall explained the locality of the accident by a plan which he had made.
Alfred H. E. Burr, who keeps a butcher shop near the point of the accident, testified to seeing Driver Forrest coming along the street and to getting his own team out of the way to let Forrest by. He said the woman in her sleigh was out in the middle of the road. Upon cross examination there was a lively interchange between the witness and Major Hull.
Dr. Edward A. Atkinson of Niantic, medical examiner for an insurance company, who made out the application of Grace L. Driscoll, Aug. 31, 1910, also testified, and the application was put in as an exhibit. When his testimony was concluded court adjourned at 4.30 o'clock till this morning at 10 o'clock. Attorneys Hull and McGuire are conducting the case for the plaintiff, with Attorneys Tannar and Belcher for the defendant.
The jurors on the case are William S. Geor and Jacob F. Starkweather, Norwich; Charles H. Benjamin, Westerly; Daniel W. Webster, Colchester; Wayland B. Frink, Griswold; James J. Thomas, Lebanon; Chester S. Main and William P. Babcock, North Stonington; Charles H. Giddings, Franklin; Albert G. Cole, Sprague; Jesse Phillips, Lisbon; Charles Winchester, Salem.

CAMP PLANS COMPLETE FOR Y. M. C. A. BOYS

Best Time Ever Expected This Year — Location Ideal—Half the Enrollment Secured.
From all indications, the Norwich Y. M. C. A. boys are going to have the time of their lives at their camp on Fishers island, July 10 to 24. The camp will be located in a fine grove of trees on the northern shore of the island, a short distance from the life-guard stand. The camp is now in progress, and the beach in front of the camp slopes out gradually for one-eighth of a mile and is a sheltered cove. This insures excellent bathing under safe conditions.
The boys will be housed in three tents, a leader and ten boys being in each tent. Comfortable canvas cots will be furnished and each boy will bring his own blankets. A large dining tent and a cook tent will be provided. Considerable new equipment has been purchased from the earnings of the minstrel show given last winter by the boys' department members.
The camp will have the use of a 6-horsepower motor boat owned and captained by Sidney Collins, who will be assisted by Phillips Cook. This will be used for fishing expeditions and excursions to nearby points of interest. It is also anticipated that another smaller motor boat will be secured.
The camp director, J. H. Ely, Robert S. Fletcher and James Ishler will plan an attractive programme for each day. With baseball, basketball and field sports, outings to Fort Wright, swimming, water sports and company golf, there will be something doing every minute to absorb the interests and energies of the boys. With the active out-door life, it is expected that tremendous appetites will be developed, and a generous supply of provisions is being contracted for. One of the best dairy farms in a short distance located on the island, a section of the camp.
The association that Frank Markdock will again preside at the cook stove insures an attraction of no small importance. Last year he attained a reputation as a cook and a fun maker. The camp will also have the mechanical details of the camp.
There will be provision for thirty boys and fifteen have already signed application blanks.

COAST ARTILLERY CAMP THROUGH WITH CAMP

Third and Fifth Will Be Home Here This Afternoon.
Fort H. J. Wright on Fishers island that the Connecticut coast artillery companies will have there, as the ten-day tour ends today and the Third and Fifth companies will be home here some time after tomorrow afternoon.
On Tuesday the Connecticut coast artillerymen at Fort H. J. Wright were engaged in target practice with the heavy guns.
Both Third and Fifth companies are having an instruction camp. The camp has had a lot of plain drudgery and more of interesting though hard work than most of the older men have experienced in several years. Brig. Gen. George M. Cole, the adjutant general, was a visitor to the camp Monday and spent the night there.
